

STILL WORKING WITH MEDIATOR

As the debate carries on over the back to work legislation, your negotiating committee is continuing to work with mediator Mr. Morton Mitchnick. We will continue as long as we can to attempt and achieve negotiated collective agreements. Legislation and arbitration are not the way to resolve this dispute and to try and improve the relationship between CUPW and Canada Post.

Your Actions

Your actions and solidarity continue to give us strength and the determination to get this done. Please continue doing the great things that you have been doing. We are postal workers and we will never give up.
